

I feel it is my right that I am willing to pay for the service that I should be able to receive the traffic & weather stations I was recently on a cross country trip and it was very helpful to have the traffic reports for the major cities that I was approaching so I knew before hand what to expect for traffice delays and find alternate routes if necessary.
It only helps with making the traffic delays less than they already are and also makes it safer driving for everyone involved.

Gary Fischer